

Proportion of trials in which dyads followed the evidence received by the dominant child

